Redondo Beach
Bids Vacationists

With the passing of June those living in Southern California are commencing to think of their vacation and rest period and to make preparations for spending a few weeks away from home and office.

Redondo Beach is prepared to receive and cater to many such who need rest and recreation. There is no better place for the children, and every facility is offered to the whole family to enjoy themselves. Plunge and surf bathing, fishing, dancing and numerous other amusement features are provided for the entertainment of the vacationist.

The bath house at Redondo Beach is famed the world over for its three swimming pools of filtered water, where one can indulge in the healthiest of exercises with perfect safety. The ballroom offers the young people every opportunity to indulge in dancing. A popular orchestra of nine high-class musicians dispenses the dance music.

Fishing is another feature at Redondo Beach. Those who are fond of pier fishing can use rod and reel with every chance of success, and for those who are fond of going to the fishing grounds, motor boats are provided, running almost every hour daily from the pier to fishing barges anchored off the shore.

There will be band concerts in the open air music plaza throughout the season on Sundays and holidays, together with soloists and vaudeville acts, and every Wednesday afternoon there will be a big free four-net vaudeville show for the children.

The small son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Netzley has been quite ill with pneumonia.

VALLEY ASSOCIATION MEETS AT MONTEREY PARK

The Valley Beautiful association will hold an open forum meeting at Monterey Park this (Friday) night, in the Community church. Among the speakers will be Ernest Brautson, flower expert, and Dr. Alfred Cookman, who will speak on California wild birds.

Mrs. S. S. Aschenbrenner is the vice-president of this association and is giving largely of her time to make it a success.

CORRECTION

Through an error last week on the part of the Argus reported the local lumber firm of Vinay-Milliken was credited with donating the lumber to the Boy Scouts for the erection of a sealing wall. The local branch of the Kerkhoff-Cuzner Lumber company should have received the credit.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Tucker entertained at dinner recently in honor of Mr. and Mrs. George Seib of Hollywood and son and daughter, Lester and Norma. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Billy Kohlmeier, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Varcoe, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pummill. Lester Seib, whose home is in New York city, is known to many in Covina, he having graduated from the high school several years ago. He is an actor on the legitimate stage, going under the name of Mr. Vail.

150,000 PEOPLE Watched Speeding Racers, and Marveled.....

IT WAS a great spectacle, that Annual Memorial Day race at the Indianapolis Speedway. Vast crowds watched those low, specially-built cars roar around that great track, lap after lap, with throttle wide open—and marveled that cars could keep going so long at such furious speed. The race lasted 400 miles. The winning car averaged a fraction better than 94 miles an hour. That was fast traveling, to be sure, and real endurance—

Yet....

JUST contrast the showing made by those specially-designed, specially-built, professionally-driven racing cars with the speed and endurance records held by Chandler and Cleveland Sixes.

A Chandler roadster with top and windshield removed ran 1000 miles around the speedway at Culver City, in 689 minutes—an average of 86.9 miles an hour. Think of it! Not 400 miles, but 1000 miles! Not a racing car—a Chandler! Two and a half times the distance of the Indianapolis Race, and only a difference of about 8 miles an hour in average speed.

Another time at Culver City, a Cleveland Six maintained an average speed of better than 80 miles an hour for 1000 miles—covering the distance in 745 minutes—the fastest 1000 miles ever run by an automobile without once stopping the motor!

These and many other equally important records held by Chandler and Cleveland clearly reveal the remarkable power and stamina these Sixes possess—and prove better than anything else the kind of quality built into these cars.

Chandler and Cleveland both have high-pressure motor lubrication—and what's more, both have the great "One Shot" System of centralized chassis lubrication.

For sheer beauty, rare comfort, big value and championship performance, all together, the new Chandler and the new Cleveland are simply without rivals in their respective price classes.

See these cars. Name your own tests. Do your own testing. We'll leave everything to your own judgment.

Charles Williams, State Pioneer, Dies

The death of Charles Williams occurred at his temporary residence on the H. M. Houser ranch, Sunday, June 20th. Services were held at Custer & Christiansen's mortuary chapel Wednesday morning, conducted by Rev. Boaz of the Brethren church, followed by interment at Oakdale. "Lead Kindly Light" and "My Father Knows" were sung by Mrs. H. M. Brubaker and daughter, Hilda.

Mr. Williams, who has been in poor health for some time, came to Covina from the home in Modesto to escape the heat, accompanied by his wife, a sister of Mrs. H. M. Houser.

Deceased was born in Ohio, July 6, 1859, and was in his sixty-seventh year. He married Emma R. Pampel in Keokuk county, Iowa, in 1878. Two and a half years later the young couple came to California, locating in Stockton.

Surviving are the widow, with whom he had passed nearly fifty years of married life, a daughter, Mrs. Odie M. Bill of Adin, California, a son, Elmer C. Williams, who is manager of the hardware department of the Pioneer Mercantile company at Bakersfield, and six grandchildren.

The pallbearers were H. M. Houser, J. O. Houser, I. D. Houser, Ed Blanchard, Frank Baldesser, and J. A. Morehead.

Mrs. R. A. White and her sons will spend the next two weeks at Balboa.

Henry Holmes, formerly road supervisor of this district, now of Compton, was a visitor in Covina this week. Mr. Holmes has just completed the erection of a handsome mortuary building on Compton avenue, which will be opened to the public for inspection on Sunday next. Mr. Holmes is a constant reader of the Argus.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Everett and child of Redley, California, have moved to Covina, having rented the Paul Jackson residence on West Center street. Mr. Everett is an insurance man and has already commenced building up a business connection in this valley. Mrs. Everett's sister, Miss Mariam French of Santa Barbara, is a house guest at their home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Warner and family of Los Angeles and Mrs. Charlotte Baldrige were the dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Warner.

Miss Mabel Funk and Miss Ruth Shaver left Wednesday for a three-months' tour of Europe. After stopping at various points in the east, they sail from New York on the 7th of July. They will visit England, Switzerland, France, Belgium, Germany, Holland, and Italy. They will attend an international Endeavor conference in England. Miss Funk's beauty parlors will continue to be operated during her absence.

Mrs. Nye Writes of Late Volcanic Flow in Hawaii

In a recent letter from Mrs. Wilbur Nye (nee Ellen Griffiths) from Honolulu to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Griffiths, she describes the volcano "Kilauea."

"We arrived here on Wednesday morning and came out to the volcano. We walked about three hundred yards across the plateau and there was this crater—right in the middle. It is about thirty-five hundred yards across. In the middle, or rather to one side, is the firepit, 'Halemaumau.' There are streams and landslides galore, and everywhere is steam bursting from cracks in the ground. The cracks are everywhere and one has to be careful not to fall into one.

"The next day we went down into the crater. You can drive your car to within two hundred yards of the firepit. We hunted for olivines—little olive-green stones that are formed and thrown up in rocks by the lava. They are the same formation as a diamond and are worth two and a half dollars. In the afternoon we drove to the new lava flows, which are sixty-two miles away. It was certainly worth while, even though we were two weeks late, and the tales we hear from those who saw it. We walked across it—a bank fifteen hundred yards wide and about six hundred feet high—steam heat, live red rocks, and flame. You can imagine when I tell you that the one that flowed in 1919 is still so hot that you can ignite a stick in one minute. You can not stand still on it.

"Next day we took in the lava tubes—four hundred feet of tunnel formed by the gases of a lava flow. The top is dome-shaped, but the floor where the lava poured through is perfectly flat. We took in 'Twin Craters,' and 'Cave of Axes' on one trip and the ferns are as high as the car. Tree ferns are all along the way.

"Yesterday we took a hike past fourteen craters and peered into each one. Saw the 'Devil's Throat,' and from 'Pan Hula Hula,' an extinct crater, we could see five steaming craters at one time.

"Captain Bush, who actually saw the lava flow hit the ocean, was in a little house just four minutes before the lava poured over it. He said the middle of it was like syrup, and about every three hours it would come down at the rate of thirty miles an hour, evidently gathering at the source and flowing over. He says the most pitiable part of it was the destroying of the Hawaiian faith in Pele (fire goddess). These people are very strong in their faith, and never before had she been known to destroy a village. The people had two days to get out, but would not because they thought Pele would not hurt them. They planted flags around their dead and homes to show her where they did not want her to go. One old man finally became frightened and took the roof off his house and they think that Pele got angry because he lost faith and so destroyed the village. As the lava approached they offered sacrifices of money and food. There were footprints in the hardened volcanic ashes that were one hundred fifty years old, made by a fleeing army, barefooted, and all as plain as though they had been made recently. Today we went wild goat hunting and we each killed one."

Chambers Chosen School Principal

Ralph S. Chambers has been chosen as principal of the Covina grammar school to succeed Boyden G. Hall, resigned. His collegiate work has been done in Park college, Illinois, University of Chicago, and Stanford.

Mr. Chambers comes highly recommended by the board of trustees of Potlatch, and by several letters from the Stanford faculty, including one from Dr. E. P. Cubberley, head of the department of education, and one from Dr. J. C. Almach, professor of education.

Mr. Chambers has visited the school and met the teachers. He will move to Covina in September, with his wife and six-year-old daughter.

Wednesday, June 30, 1926

Opening Reception

During the afternoon and evening of our opening day floral favors will be presented to all of our lady guests. Punch and wafers will be served, too, in an effort to carry out our determination to make this a homelike store at all times.

A cordial invitation is extended the public to visit Covina's newest store on our opening day, not with the thought of buying, but rather, of enjoying the beauties of a line of furniture, any piece of which will make a home more homelike.

This store will offer at all times a comprehensive line of high grade furniture. The majority of our stock is nationally advertised. Of this we are proud, because it is now generally recognized that to withstand national advertising a commodity MUST possess exceptional quality and value.

Low overhead expense—always an item to be reckoned with in any business—permits us to price our stock at figures that, quality considered, will meet any competition that thrifty buyers may wish to make.

We believe that we offer a stock of furniture such as has never before been carried in Covina, but realizing that the verdict rests with you, we ask that you come and judge for yourself.

Out of 218 possible vocations, there are only 18 which can be followed by the blind.

If you suffer from eyestrain, poor vision, or uncomfortable vision, your efficiency is diminished accordingly.

You may not need glasses, but some corrective measures may be necessary.

Year after year the car has continued to mature into a better and better product.

Beauty has been added to dependability, comfort and silence to beauty. Endless refinements have been made, and the quality of every detail either maintained or improved.

The result is a name that is altogether worthy of the remarkable public trust it inspires, and too priceless ever to jeopardize.

Double Bill Starts Off Theater Week

The current theater week starts off today and tomorrow (Friday and Saturday) with a double bill, with Tom Mix in "The Yankee Senor" as the headliner. This is the screen version of "Conquistador," novel by Katherine Fullerton Gerould, and many of the scenes are in technicolor. The other film will be "The First Year," a film version of John Golden's stage play.

"The Rainmaker," new Paramount picture, will be shown Sunday and Monday nights. This picture features William Collier Jr., and Ernest Torrence. Romance and regeneration are the two interlocking elements in this gripping story, which has for its background a picturesque race track and a little border town in the southwest.

Tuesday and Wednesday nights W. C. Fields takes the leading part in "It's the Old Army Game." This is a comedy picture of the more pretentious sort—the kind which have been so popular at the Covina theater during the past few weeks. Thursday only, July 1, brings a film which ran two years as a play on Broadway, "The Circle." This picture features Eleanor Boardman and Malcolm McGregor, and was written by Frank Borzage, the man who wrote the story of "Rain."

Over One Hundred Thousand People Own Edison Stock

Over one hundred thousand stockholders had been secured by the Southern California Edison company on the opening of business at the general offices in Los Angeles last Saturday morning, according to advices received by District Manager Hanna. It is believed that this gives President John B. Miller's company the largest number of stockholders of any single electric light and power company in the world. Ivan McWhinney, a lad of eight years, residing at 36 Eighth street, Hermosa Beach, became the one hundred thousandth stockholder. W. L. Frost, general commercial manager, had the distinction of making the sale to the one hundred thousandth Edison partner. Mr. Frost conducted young Mc-Whinney to the office of R. H. Ballard, and the executive vice-president and general manager of the company handed the lad his stock certificate and congratulated him upon becoming a member of the great Edison family.

The quota of approximately 5200 stockholders necessary to score the one hundred thousand mark was completed during the last week by members of the Edison company organization during what they designated "R. H. Ballard One Hundred Thousand Stockholder Week", in compliment to the executive vice-president and general manager of the company, who had placed July, 1926, as about the time the one hundred thousand shareholders would be obtained.

The Southern California Edison company now has two and one-half times more stockholders than the average electric public utility corporations in the United States in proportion to the population served, based on the last reports of the National Electric Light association.
 The company now has one stockholder to every five families in the community of two and a quarter million people served. Of its stockholders, ninety per cent reside within its service territory and are consumers of its electric product. Compared with national organizations whose stock is very widely distributed, the Southern California Edison company now ranks in number of stockholders with the United States Steel corporation and the Pennsylvania Railroad company, and as compared to all corporations in the country, it probably now ranks fifth in total number of stockholders.

When President Miller put the corporations in the country, it probably in effect in July, 1917, his company had only 2000 stockholders, most of whom resided in the east. The increase of 98,000 stockholders during the interval has been very largely confined to members of families who use the company's service for light, heat, agriculture, and domestic purposes, and by the large number of factories that have located in the vicinity of Los Angeles within the past few years. The par value of preferred and common stocks owned by the company's one hundred thousand stockholders exceeds $105,000, or an average of but approximately $1000 to each stockholder.

California Strong For Conference Held In Nebraska

The membership of the Church of the Brethren of California went strong for their annual conference at Lincoln, Nebraska, June 9-16.
 Delegates from many points in Southern California and upstate cities joined together to the capacity of two sleeping cars. The route took them over the Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, and Rock Island, to Lincoln. George W. Wetherby, Southern Pacific traveling passenger agent, planned the itinerary, and Rev. Geo.
 E. Chamberlen of Covina was in charge of the party. The trip was one of real comfort and greatly appreciated by all, the party making schedule time and having fine weather conditions for travel.

Lincoln is a beautiful city of homes, schools, colleges, and churches. Because of this general atmosphere it has been nicknamed the "holy city." The state university is also located there. The streets are well paved and in the residential sections lined with stately elms and other beautiful trees.

"College View," the home of the late William Jennings Bryan, situated on a beautiful eminence of the city, at present is occupied by the staff of nurses belonging to the hospital erected on the grounds. The entire grounds command a fine view of city and surrounding country.

The mayor, Mr. Zehung, addressed the conference in a speech of welcome. He was in a very happy mood and spoke delightfully of his long and acceptable political career as mayor. He complimented the Brethren on many things, but the most outstanding point in his address was the fact that he was completely sold on the city of Lincoln. It was the incomparable. His political opponents were his house guests; the boys and girls all called him by his first name; even the dogs wagged their tails when they saw him coming. He emphasized his long term of service and fully counted upon the noble folk of Lincoln to continue his career.

I wanted to take him under my arm and bring him to Covina.

The governor sent a letter of greeting to the conference. I appreciated his wisdom. He did not have to stand on a platform before three thousand perspiring people and mop his slowly dissolving countenance while he spoke.

The conference was small in attendance as compared to last year, not more than about 3500 being in attendance. It was estimated the meeting at Winona lake last year had more than that many thousand.
 The conference's record of work and unanimity was good and the final set of resolutions pledged the entire church to a loyal support of the eighteenth amendment to the extent of supporting for office men and women who are in favor of said amendment and who are opposed to its modification.

The question of world peace received a like support.

The principal addresses dealt with the home, education, and missionary endeavor.

Eight foreign missionaries were consecrated and the conference offering was in excess of $120,000.

The "college reunions" were a source of wholesome fellowship and pleasantries. Some instances grandparents and grandchildren participated in the enjoyment of the alma mater.

California received good recognition by literally hundreds of inquiries. Everybody wants to come to Southern California. We did not encounter a single dissenter. And may I say that in the journey of ten states we saw nothing approaching it in appearance or prosperity! It is "beautiful for situation, the joy of the whole earth."

GEO. F. CHAMBERLEN.
 Miss Adeline Wesseler is visiting her sister, Mrs. Walter Hughes of Charter Oak. In July Mrs. Hughes and Miss Wesseler will visit their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Wesseler, at St. Louis.
